

ECER 2015, Budapest

Education and Transition - Contributions from Educational Research

ECER 2015 "Education and Transition. Contributions from Educational Research" will take place at Corvinus University of Budapest from 7 to 11 September 2015.

The programme of ECER 2015 will be enriched by the participation of WERA (World Educational Research Association) who will hold their annual focal meeting at ECER.

Call for Proposals

Here you can find the ECER 2015 Call for Proposals.

Conference Venue

Corvinus University	Main Building	Fővám tér 8., 1093 Budapest, Hungary
Corvinus University	C Building	Közraktár u. 4-6., 1093 Budapest, Hungary

Conference Dates

Emerging Researchers' Conference	07 - 08 Sept	Mon 9:00 - Tue 17:30
ECER Conference	08 - 11 Sept	Tue 12:30 - Fri 17:30

Conference Theme

Education is defined by transition. Traditionally, from a lifelong learning perspective, we think of education as contributing to and organising the transition of children, young people and adults from one psychosocial status to another. Education also contributes to the transition of communities from one situation into another. The concept of 'transition' itself has developed various meanings in areas including the ontological, social, economic, political and cultural in which we all live, act, educate and do research.

Read more

Keynote Speakers

ECER 2015 will welcome four keynote speakers: Michael Apple, Tamás Kozma, Iram Siraj and Sharon Todd.

Read more